First Fair Day Success

The management of the Alderson Fair held last Thursday in McDiarmid Hall are being complimented on many sides for the measure of success which attended their initial efforts to establish a Fall Fair in Alderson. Considering the very busy days at present on the farm the farmers adjacent to town responded nobly to the invitation to submit vegetables and grain for exhibition purposes. The prizes awarded were paroxysmally. It was the nucleus of a larger fair that is to be.

The Management also wishes to thank the ladies who kindly assisted the enterprise. An exhibition that attracted a very considerable attention and was most favorably received was the display of vegetables and grain by J Y and his brother J W Clark. The exhibition occupied about 200 ft of space in the building and was composed of grain and vegetables all raised on the Clark farms adjacent to town. The prizes awarded as follows:

Big Prairie Fire Hits North Country

Considerable damage reported to date

The worst prairie fire to ever attack the district has been raging since Tuesday noon. It is fairly under control at time of writing but has wrecked several hundred acres of crop especially in the Tide Lake district. Its origin is shrouded in mystery but it said to have got its start from burning weeds in the neighborhood of Tiley.

It took a wide sweep across the C P R and got into the homestead district first near the Wanvig farm about 8 miles from town. It was here that Messrs Frisley and Wanvig did some fire work. It was also here that the flames turned and fought flames all day and succeeded in turning the wing of the fire into the slough.

Another branch of the flames got in south of Tide Lake and the following farms are known to have suffered. J. M. Gaines lost of 600 bushels of wheat. E. A. Berg lost 3 acres stacked grain. The two round houses of J. Wygoda

"Fish or Cut Bait"

The following poem in the Walt Mason style, has been dedicated to those, who will be invited to subscribe to the Local Patriotic Fund, and is eloquent in its simplicity:

"We've had a twelve month now of war, but the end's not yet in sight, and the challenge goes to every man to either pay or fight. It's not the time to hunt and haw or air your hobby whims—it's up to you to see just now that the British Tommy wins. Not the time to count on gain or to fatten up your purse while your brothers fight to rid the world of the War mad ruler's curse. The man who stays at home just now has got to face the bill, and it's just as well to do it with a right good British Will. The calls gone forth to every man, alike to small and great—if you can go with the fishermen you'll have to cut the bait."

Distribution of Seed Samples

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a free distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples will consist of spring wheat, about 5 lbs white oats about 4 lbs barley about 5 lbs and field peas about 5 lbs. All these will be sent out from Ottawa.

A distribution of potatoes in 3lb. bags will be carried on from the several Experimental Farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Each Application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. All applications for grain should be addressed to the Dominion Cerealist, Central Experimental Farm Ottawa. Letters addressed thus do not require postage.

Exhibits carried free

An item of particular interest to intending exhibitors at the forthcoming Exhibition of Soil Products to be held by the Western Canada Irrigation Association at Bassano, November 23rd to 25th next, is the announcement by the Secretary that the Canadian Pacific Railway has agreed to carry all exhibits to that exhibition by freight free, between the dates of November 10th and 22nd inclusive. Exhibits which exhibitors wish to be returned to point of shipment at the close of the exhibition, do not come under this special free freight tariff but would ship under tariff W. 2892, which provides for the free return to original shipping point within ten days after the close of the exhibition, on all exhibits for agricultural fair or exhibition. Agents at all points are advised to accept shipments on the above terms from points in the Irrigation Block, Lethbridge District, Calgary District, Maple Creek District, the Okanagan Valley, Kamloops, Arrow Lakes, and Kootenay Districts of British Columbia.

Buy an Irrigated Farm

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rain and insures good crop, not necessarily, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures best returns in dairy and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35.00 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the equivalent of $1,000.00 for improvements (6% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farmland on record.

THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

How the Textile Journal Deals With the Situation

"Under the present conditions, it is practically impossible for the woollen and worsted industry to have the development that it is due," said the Canadian Textile Journal. "A few months ago, however, it was a valuable adjunct to a country like Canada which is recognized to be so adapted to mixed farming, by providing a home market for a valuable product of agriculture and investigators about the quality of our sheep wool is second to none." The sheep raising industry in Canada has gone down with the woollen industry and it is safe to say that there will be great revival until a home market is provided. The industry is one that pays well and gives employment to a sturdy and independent class of people. It can be carried on to advantage in small towns which require some sort of industrial life to add to their stability and many of the mills that are at present operating provide an outlet source of employment in dozens of small communities throughout the country. In other countries it has been looked on as a necessity, clothing being one of the prime necessities of life, and in various countries it has been done in Germany, France and the United States it has been developed and in some of these countries do the people have to pay more for their clothing than in Canada, when all conditions are taken into consideration. It is recommended that law and government make cheap clothing for the actual working out of the principle has not verified the claim.

"The woollen and worsted industry is not in need of an enormously high tariff. There are some of the sections that are not satisfied and they are not satisfied because we claim that a readjustment is necessary. We are convinced that if those who are now working against this readjustment would look into the matter without prejudice, they would find the woollen and worsted industry an industry that has deteriorated while every other industry in the country was being rapidly developed would be given sufficient protection so as to take its proper place in the industrial life of the country."

RUSSIA AND THE WAR

A Lesson in Economics—The Value of Our Industries

One of the main reasons in the war in Russia is that wages remain low and that Russian commerce is not like a broken machine, because wages are too low. Russia has great financial resources she is important—because she has no industries! Canada has industries that supply her internal needs and can export if need be, and Canada has no real problems in the way of labor. The thought strike one that home industries are a source of infinite strength to any nation? With all her resources, Russia could not make her bread or, better still, clothe herself. In thousand ways the individual Russian today feels the lack of imported goods—and he has no source of home manufacture. The lack of implements, blinds, curtains, etc., has hampered Russian agriculture. The lack of iron, cottons and equipment has hampered Russian military operations. Yet in Canada there exist individuals who derry the making of goods in Canada, instead of the purchase of imported goods made at home.

They talk of the exploitation of the consumer, but evade the whole idea of the importance to a nation of its industries, the economic benefit that comes from exports, the value of imports, the value of home products, etc. In Canada we wanted to take a short cut to wealth. We laid out sub-divisions instead of building factories; we operated in land deals instead of railroads, industrial centers instead of home forcing money instead of keeping our own wealth at home. What money we had we diverted to other nations by buying goods that we could have produced ourselves. We were poor, but we were rich, but surely the war will teach us that strength lies within ourselves. Let us not forget that, save for the destiny of nations, we might be isolated to-day as is Russia. Had we so far as we could have realized the foolishness of spending money on imported goods, we would have realized the importance of supporting Canadian industries. we would have purchased made in Canada goods from the Canadian Province that we had, at least to some extent, developed our home industries—Country Life in Canada.

WELCOME THE OPPORTUNITY

Kaiser Shed Tears

No Hope for Final Redemption of France

A despatch from Basle, Switzerland, to the London "Daily Mail" by a Canadian Socialist named Anton Fenrich has just published a pamphlet wherein he claims that the Kaiser is at the bottom of the trap at the battlefield in northern France. Fenrich expresses belief that the Kaiser will not be able to preserve peace before the rupture of hostilities.

"Concerning the French," says he, "the Emperor hoped, as we all know, that they would give him assistance. Like other nations, we held too high an opinion of the French. They were making war in full of nameless horror, of the most frightful kind, and it was to be recommended some day in a secret book."

"During the last half hour's interview I have been able to corroborate the facts you have so well recounted. The truth of which no one can doubt, confirmed as they are under oath, is that the Kaiser has no hope whatever of the final result."

With tears the Kaiser declared France to be a doomed country. Feed in the mouth."

These terms expressed shame as well as grief at such degradation.

In a speech he has also been regarded as chivalrous and noble, but has now become the victim of a bad misfortune.

The Kaiser ended by saying that he considered Germany to be the victim of the unification and purification of Germany, so that she would become apt for the rôle of the leader of Europe, and lay the foundation for a new European kingdom.

Poorish, pale, restless and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Extract will relieve them and restore health.

On the Safe Side

Sir Robert Borden's statement that the British war office is prepared to consider the possibility of sending a garrison to Canada in case of emergency in Britain is not taking any chances on the war being need in the near future. The Canadian government, after a considerable duration of the conflict is said to have caused the shortage of munitions, and the fact that the Canadian capped the allied campaign last summer, and that the British campaign is likely to be on the safe side.

The new scale of British preparations for war, including the number of men being recruited and the manufacture of war munitions, carries with it the assurance that the British are not going to fail from lack of appreciation of the magnitude of the task they have in hand.—Sydney Post.

Just as Well Enlist at Once

The following story regard to National Registration has been going the rounds:

It appears that a young man not only refused to fill up his paper, but came to the office and told the enumerator's face, with the confident statement that he was poor on earth and even inclined to do away with the questions put to him. The enumerator, however, was not to be outdone, and the young man, who was a commander, sought reinforcements.

When he returned with an inspector, the young man was told that he was told that the young man was out. He had gone to the town hall to enlist.

As Abraham Lincoln pointed out long ago, "If you want to have your conscientious objection to being compelled to defend their country, you must get out of the difficulty by volunteering."

Aspirine Wood Rangers

Forest fires in the woods of northern Wisconsin are now husted by an army of wood rangers. Heretofore the view a ranger had of the surrounding forest was that of a 60 foot tower. The rangers recently discovered a 20 miles area and are located there more accurately. An additional advantage is that the rangers are able to reach the scene of a fire within a few minutes where hours would be required by the forest ranger using ordinary means of travel.

Does Farming Pay

Venture of Two Medicine Hat Men Would Indicate That It Does

The following notes concerning the venture of two Medicine Hat men in the field of agriculture may be of interest. The men in question are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. L. and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore invested $1,000 each in the purchase of land.

They bought a 10 acre farm in the same field year after year. Illegible a rotation which will include legumes, grain, corn, beans, turnips, and clover flats. Fill in with soy beans or clovers.

Don't let the soil dry out in the winter when wet. During the wet weather keep the ground moist.

Don't let a root follow a shallow-rooted crop with another shallow-rooted crop.

Don't fail to save and put back on the soil every winter straw.

Don't expect the best results from the first crop. Don't be afraid to use unless tillage, rotation and adoption of crop soil have been given due attention.

Don't let the soil rest with the idea that nature will make good the result.

Don't let the soil work at all.

The farmer who follows his soil to get a good crop is riding a tiger.

The farmer who sniffs at "new-fangled" ideas is a fool.

The farmer who farms merely to get money is a fool.

The farmer who farms for his health is all right if he is farming for his health, but he won't get good results.

A man who fails to make a success of his farm is a fool.

He who applies the recognized principles of successful agriculture, or because of his success, becomes a fool.

Moreover, the farmer who is ignorant of the principles of agriculture cannot be expected to make a success of his farm.

They seeded 3,000 acres in wheat, and the yield was 15 bushels per acre.

They had 10,000 bushels of wheat for seed, and 7,000 bushels of flax. In August they had 15,000 bushels of wheat for seed, and 10,000 bushels of oilseed. Oil

Sound Farming Methods

Horse Sense is Needed for Proper Farming Operations

The following article is from a bulletin issued by the U.S. department of agriculture.

That to make a money-maker of a farm that has become a losing proposition is not a simple matter, you must:

1—Grow legumes, alfalfa, sweet clover, beans, cowpeas, red clover, or white clover, according to your soil.

2—Raise livestock as a side line—thus saving waste in pasture, fodder, straw, manure, and grain, and grain seeds and keeping up fertility.

3—Keep accounts or records and experiment—thus determining figures for guesswork as to whether you are making money or not on each crop.

4—Mix horse sense with scientific agriculture, and adapt your methods to changes in market, weather, and other conditions.

5—Get human help into the soil.

6—Establish a sound and regular rotation of crops.

7—Use your crops to suit your soil.

8—Suit your plowing to your soil.

9—Mow as regularly as you have time.

10—Don't plow when the soil is too wet. Such plowing puddles the earth and causes water to stand in the fields.

11—Don't let the same crop be sown in the same field year after year. Have a rotation which will include legumes, grain, beans, cowpeas, red clover, beans, and white clover.

12—Don't let the soil rest with the idea that nature will make good the result.

13—Don't let the soil work at all.

14—The crop is a ridge for a road.

15—The farmer who sniffs at "new-fangled" ideas is a fool.

16—The farmer who farms merely to get money is a fool.

17—The farmer who farms for his health is all right if he is farming for his health, but he won't get good results.

18—A man who fails to make a success of his farm is a fool.

19—He who applies the recognized principles of successful agriculture, or because of his success, becomes a fool.

20—Moreover, the farmer who is ignorant of the principles of agriculture cannot be expected to make a success of his farm.

WHAT CAPTURE OF DARDANELLES WOULD MEAN TO CAUSE OF ALLIES

DESTROY GERMANY'S HOPE OF COLONIAL EMPIRE

Greater than any, Colony Germany has lost in the Great Part of Asia Minor where she had intended to build a Second Empire with the Assent of Turkey.

Writing in New York, Friend Mr. Frank J. Simmons says that at Constantinople as at Quebec a great empire is born in the sun, but it is born to die at sunset; the German place in the sun is being lost or won. The struggle will be a fierce one. All men, for instance, that if the Allies force the Navarre, and the British force the Tigris, before Constantinople, the way will be open for Russia's huge accumulation of wealth and power to assert; and it will be possible for Russia freely to import the munitions designed for the Balkans. As far as Asia Minor's campaign is concerned, the fighting in the Balkans is of the greatest importance.

But, as Mr. Simmons points out, important and indeed vital as Asia Minor was to Germany, the results of the war of the Greeks against the Turks, and especially with the allies in Constantinople, Bulgaria and Roumania will be that the Sultan of Turkey, the master of Byzantium, Turkey will be put out of the fight, and while the war continues, all eyes will be concentrated upon Germany and Austria.

In a very few months, as preliminary as they may be, with the greatest success Germany became the favored friend of Constantinople, and the favor of Turkey, as well as the assured of Germany's support, ceased to bear fruit. Germany endeavored on day to establish her own order there, when the moment arrived, to destroy Turkish authority in the Balkans, and capture the Dardanelles to build up.

Germany endeavored on day to establish her own order there, when the moment arrived, to destroy Turkish authority in the Balkans, and capture the Dardanelles to build up.

It is true that the British navy and army have been sent to the Dardanelles, and almost succeeded in driving out her colonists, but "Asia Minor" today now what any colony she has lost is that great part of Asia Minor where she had intended to build a second empire with the assistance of Turkey, and the master of Byzantium.

Germany's losses are great, but she has grasped the prize. If Constantinople falls she can never grasp it. She will be left to the British, and the neutral European power with not a square mile of land to stand on.

In the last forty years that Germany has had the opportunity to expand, and at the same time the German confederacy had been established as an empire, and she took over the Balkans, and practically all the rich territories of the world had passed to some other power, and she had lost them all. Her expansion upon this continent, which she had not accepted, but which she has now accepted, but
